

Donation Policy

The Towanda District Library welcomes books and other materials as gifts to the library.

The library also welcomes monetary gifts.

Items or funds donated as a gift or memorial will not include an individual's information on the inside of a book or recognized in the form of a plaque.

The Library Director or Secretary of the Board will send a letter of acknowledgment for any gift or memorial donation.

The disposition of any item is the responsibility of the Library Staff. The Library will use the item mindful of the concerns of the donor, but will always act in the best interest of the Library over the concerns of an individual. When a book becomes obsolete, an item becomes dated or special constraints, any item in the library may be disposed of. The Library Director reserves the right to add or remove any book or item from its' collection at any time.
